Hey, I'm Javi

I'm a Charlotte influencer

who creates lifestyle and community content with a Latin twist. My passions lie in curating a space where people come together to enjoy food, fun and all the activities the beloved Queen City has to offer. I love working with small businesses and brands that value empowering others through influence, and sharing their resources to support our community. Just pass me the camera, and I'll take care of the rest.
